What is “No Child Left Behind”?

Education act signed into law in 2001 by President George W. Bush

- This Act, which redefined the federal role in K-12 education, was the most sweeping reform of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), since its enactment in 1965.
- The law was based on four basic principles: stronger accountability for results, increased flexibility and local control, expanded options for parents, and an emphasis on proven methods.

What is “Every Student Succeeds Act”?

Reauthorized version of the ESEA, signed into law in 2015 by President Barack Obama

- Represents an important step forward to improve the nation’s education system.
- While No Child Left Behind expected 100 percent proficiency for all students by 2014, ESSA gives states the authorization to identify their own goals to address proficiency on tests, English-language Arts, Math and graduation rates.

What is “Every Student Succeeds Act”? (Continued)

- The law maintains the annual testing requirement for English Language Arts and Math in grades 3rd-8th and 11th, and grade-span testing in Science. It also maintains subgroup reporting and a 95 percent testing requirement.
- ESSA is an improvement over the expired NCLB Act, shifting more authority to states and limiting federal mandates while maintaining a shared framework for K-12 accountability.

What is Title I?

- Title I is the largest federal assistance program for our nation's schools.
- The goal of Title I is a higher quality of education for every child.
- The program serves millions of children in elementary and secondary schools each year. Madera High School is a Title I school.

How Title I Works?

- The federal government provides funding to states each year for Title I.
- The California Department of Education sends the money to the District.
- The school district identifies eligible schools and provides Title I funds.
- Madera High School implements a Title I School Wide Program.

Title I Schoolwide Program

What is the purpose of the program?

- Improve the academic performance of low- achieving students and all other students in the school by working to improve the entire educational program.

Who is served?

- All students in the school are served as funds are used to upgrade the entire educational program.

Parent's Rights

- Be involved and request regular meetings to expression your opinions and concerns
- Be provided information on your child's level of achievement on assessments in reading/language arts, mathematics, science and site assessments
- Request and receive information on the qualifications of your child's teacher

School Accountability Report Card (SARC)

The Elementary and Secondary Education Act School Public Accountability Report (SARC) provides parents and the community with the following information:

- Demographic data;
- School safety and climate for learning information;
- Academic data;
- Graduation rates;
- Class sizes;
- Teacher and staff information;
- Curriculum and instruction descriptions; and
- Postsecondary preparation information.

SARC is available at the school office or online at:

School Plan for Student Achievement

Every school site must create a School Plan for Student Achievement (SPSA) in conjunction with their School Site Council (SSC) and School Leadership team. The SPSA covers the following goals:

Goal 1: Assets Based Multilingualism

Goal 2: High-Quality Student Engagement Opportunities

Goal 3: Effective Learning Environments

Goal 4: Maximize Student Achievement

SPSAs are available at the School office, District office, and MUSD website.
